WHAT CONSTITUTES PIRACY?

"UNPRECEDENTED CASE."

Before a Full Court this morning, consisting of the Chief Justice, (Mr. Justice Wood), and Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, the hearing commenced of a point reserved by the Chief Justice at the trial at the February Assizes of twelve men charged with piracy off Pedro Blanco on January 4 last.

The jury at the Assizes found the men guilty, but the point now to be argued was "whether the prisoners may be convicted of piracy in circumstances where no robbery has occurred."

The Attorney-General indicated that Mr. Somerset Fitzroy would represent the Crown, and Mr. Hin-shing Lo would appear to argue for the prisoners.

The Chief Justice: Then I think that the point having been reserved it is for the prisoners to begin.

Robbery Not Proved?

Mr. Hin-shing Lo, in commencing his argument, said: The point reserved for the consideration of this Court is that no accused person may be convicted of piracy where no robbery has occurred. In other words, I am saying that the question before the Court is whether these prisoners at the bar can be legally convicted of piracy jure gentium, even though they have not in fact committed robbery on the high seas. The point raises a big question of procedure, affecting as it does the administration of criminal justice not only in this Colony, but in other parts of the British Empire.

Continuing, Mr. Lo said that although there was a very strong moral claim upon any citizen to do whatever was in his power to keep the seas free from pirates, yet prisoners had an equally strong claim that should be dealt with according to British law, or according to what constituted jure gentium. Their claim to acquittal by the present Court could not be in any way affected by the previous adverse verdict of the jury in the Lower Court.

Indictments Condemned.

The indictment on that occasion did not, counsel claimed, allege commission of actual robbery. It only alleged "an attack with force of arms upon the master and crew with intent to take away the junk and steal the same." Even this indictment was not brought in until the first indictment, containing three counts, had been quashed on the grounds that the counts were legally defective, and did not disclose any evidence known to the law of nations; nor did it identify with any legal crime.

"It is true the indictment alleges an offence," said Mr. Lo. "But my submission is that such an offence as is disclosed in the present indictment does not amount to piracy by the law of nations."

"Ingredients" of Piracy.

"The essential ingredients of the crime of piracy," he added, "under which the prisoners were indicted, must be three in number. These are: (a) There must be violent assault; (b) Those who are robbed must be put in bodily fear of their lives; (c) The ship, its cargo, or any member of its crew and passengers, must be seized and taken away in the presence of, or from the possession or control of, those who are actually in charge of her."

The Chief Justice: Are you saying that it is essential that the ship itself must be seized?

Mr. Lo: "The control of the ship must be taken by the pirates."

"Simply Robbery."

Counsel went on to urge that these three ingredients must be alleged in the indictment. No thing short of them amounted to piracy. All three must be proved. It was not sufficient to prove or allege only two. Piracy was simply robbery committed on the high seas or within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty.

Counsel claimed that although the seas had for centuries not been free from piracy, of some description, none of the cases quoted in law was similar to the present one. "I think my friends will agree with me that this case

DEATH OF MR. C. MAKEHAM.

Passes Away in New South Wales.

36 YEARS IN COLONY.

The friends of Mr. Charles Makeham, who retired in August last after 36 years' continuous service with the Dairy Farm, will regret to hear of his death yesterday at Homebush, near Sydney, New South Wales, at the age of 65 years.

On February 5, 1930, Mr. and Mrs. Makeham celebrated their silver wedding when the presentation of a blackwood cabinet and silver water jug was made in the Wesleyan Soldiers' and Sailors' Home. Mr. W. H. Edmonds, who made the presentation, paid a high tribute to the work of the indefatigable couple, whose friends rejoiced with them in the celebration of their silver wedding anniversary.

"A Word from the Minister."

In the Wesleyan Church Quarterly issued in October the Rev. J. Knight Anstey wrote:—

None of us can look forward without feelings of peculiar regret to the departure from the Colony of our dear friend, Mr. and Mrs. Makeham. In the following resolution of the Quarterly Meeting we have tried to express something of what we feel, but no words seem adequate to the situation, and we can only hope that Mr. Makeham's mantle of devoted service may fall upon someone else, and that we may be able to gladden him in his retirement in Australia by reports of a prosperous Wanchai. The resolution reads as follows:—

"On the eve of the retirement of Mr. Charles Makeham, the Quarterly Meeting of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Queen's Road East, Hong Kong, wishes to express its deep sense of the loss it will mean to the cause at Wanchai, with which he has been inseparably associated for so many years, and its reluctance to face the thought of the severance of the very happy personal relationships which that association has engendered."

"Loyalty to the Church in all its interests, exhibited in regular attendance at all its gatherings, in unstinted and varied service joyously rendered, and in that generous giving of the cheerful giver whom the Lord loves, have been but the more public indications of a character rich in living Christian experience, and embellished by unfailing brotherliness and courtesy, dignified and self-effacing humility, and a gracious sense of humour."

"It is almost impossible to think of Wanchai Church life without the genial presence of Mr. and Mrs. Makeham, as it will be to forget their loving service and their constant hospitality and fellowship."

"We pray that God's richest blessing may rest upon them in all their future, and His peace ever abide with them."

Company's Tribute.

On March 18, at the annual meeting of the Dairy Farm Company, Mr. J. P. Warren (Chairman) said:—

"When on the subject of the staff I should like to mention that Mr. C. Makeham, who served the Company faithfully and well for the last 36 years, retired from the Company's service during the year and has settled down in Australia, where, I am sure, we all hope he will be long spared to enjoy his retirement."

is entirely unprecedented in the history of piracy," he added.

Mr. Lo, a little later, said: "My submission in this case is that the Crown has taken an enlarged view of the crime of piracy, which view is not warranted by the law of nations. The view taken is, in fact, wholly unjustified. Most writers and authorities define piracy as robbery on the high seas. It must be proved in a similar manner as robbery on land. Apart from not defining piracy as required, the admission of this form of indictment (as in the present case) diverts the administration of justice into a new course which forms an evil precedent."

Mr. Lo then commenced to quote authorities in support of his contention.

The case is proceeding.

PARDON FOR LAHORE MURDERERS?

Congress Threat Not to Join Conference.

JUSTICE BLACKMAILED.

Karachi, Yesterday. The news of the imminence of the execution of the three men sentenced to death in connection with the Lahore conspiracy case, is unsettling the arrangements for an All-India Congress, which should open here on Tuesday.

Pending the result of applications on behalf of the condemned men by the Indian Defence Committee, which the High Court will hear to-morrow, the address of welcome to Dr. Gidwani, Chairman of the Reception Committee, which had been prepared on the assumption that the sentence would be commuted and which had urged participation in the Round Table Conference, has been held over. If the sentence is carried out Dr. Gidwani will advocate the rejection of the idea of co-operation in the Conference.—Reuter.

HOLD UP ON PRAYA.

ROBBERY FROM A CHINESE FOREMAN.

STRUCK WITH HAMMER.

The daring hold-up of a Chinese foreman on the Praya last night is revealed in the Police reports this morning.

Ng Chuen, the victim, in his report, stated that he was walking along Connaught Road Central at 8.20 p.m. Opposite the Kee Shan Boarding House, five or six men, approaching him from behind, demanded to carry out a search to which he submitted. Two of the gang snatched from his right breast pocket, a gold watch and chain, with pendants attached, to the total value of $234. Whilst this was in progress, the other desperadoes assaulted Ng by pushing him to the ground and hitting him several blows on the back with a hammer. After this, they ran away.

The haul comprises a gold watch, valued at $30, a gold chain, valued at $90, an American 20 dollar piece set in a frame, valued at $90, two gold pendants valued at $40, a horn pendant mounted at both ends with gold, valued at $10, and a grey felt hat valued at $4.

Highway Robbery Sequel.

There was a sequel in the Central Police Court to-day to the armed robbery on Lady Clement's Ride on Friday, when a contractor was attacked by five men. Before Mr. W. Schofield, Sergeant R. Cunningham charged two Hoks, Lam Shing (35) and Lam Yuk (25), both unemployed, with highway robbery.

In stating that he had been instructed to ask for 45 hours' remand in Police custody, Sergt. Cunningham intimated that there were five men in the affair, three of whom were still at liberty. They were offering a remand so as to enable them to capture the culprits.

The remand was granted.

FARM BOARD WARNS WHEAT FARMERS.

No Stabilisation of Price to Be Attempted.

LIMITING PRODUCTION.

Washington, Yesterday. The Farm Board has warned the wheat farmers that no Government stabilisation of prices would be attempted for the 1931 crop, and again emphasised the necessity of limiting domestic production to meet demand.

The board did not indicate a change of policy regarding 1930 wheat, which is now being stabilised by purchases of surplus stocks and did not mention their intentions regarding cotton, of which large purchases have already been made.—Reuter's American Service.

FRUITLESS SEARCH FOR LOST PLANE.

CRASHED IN MOUNTAINS?

Melbourne, Yesterday. Anxiety is felt in regard to the fate of the National Airways machine with two pilots and five passengers aboard, which has been missing somewhere between Sydney and Melbourne. She was last sighted at 3.30 p.m., yesterday at Wangaratta, 145 miles north of Melbourne, flying towards the mountains. Five planes searched for her all day long without result.—Reuter.

CHINESE IN HOME AIR CRASH.

Seriously Injured at Brooklands.

London, Yesterday. A Chinese named Alfred Yeakoh Wong, was seriously injured today when crashing in a private aeroplane at Brooklands aerodrome to-day. The plane was piloted by an Indian, T. H. Dastur. It is understood that the owner of the machine was also slightly injured.—Reuter.

MOTOR FATALITIES.

EARTH COOLIE AND WOMAN KILLED.

During the week-end, two motor accidents, each attended with a fatality, were reported to the Police.

Lam Yung (45), employed as an earth coolie, was killed in Prince Edward Road at 11 a.m. yesterday, when a motor lorry passed over his head.

The second mishap occurred in Queen's Road Central, at the junction of Ice House Street, where a motor cycle driven by Mr. Lee Wing-chun ran into a woman, Li Chun-chue, who is stated to be 60 years of age. The woman was removed to the Government Civil Hospital, but died later.

POLAR EXPEDITION TRAGEDY.

Mourning for Drowned Quartermaster.

TRIP UNDER THE ICE.

New York, Yesterday. A sorrowful start to the famous North Pole expedition was made when the submarine Nautilus arrived at Brooklyn with her flag at half-mast in mourning for Quartermaster Grimmer, who was swept overboard and drowned. The Nautilus has come here for her christening by Jean Jules Verne, the grandson of the famous French writer.—Reuter's American Service.

[A message of March 17 stated:—A heavy snowstorm appropriately marked the departure of the submarine Nautilus, formerly of the United States Navy, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins and a party of explorers left for New York for the final trials en route to a trip to the North Pole under ice.]

MOTHERS' SUNDAY.

OBSERVANCE IN ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

SOCIAL HOUR.

Mothering Sunday, which is a world-wide institution, was observed in St. Andrew's Church yesterday evening, when a special service was conducted by the Rev. E. A. Armstrong (Assistant Chaplain). A large congregation listened to a stirring sermon on "If Christ came what would He think of our home and personal relationships" preached by the Vicar (the Rev. W. Walton Rogers).

Later, a social hour was spent in the Church Hall, when opportunity was taken to welcome fifteen newly-confirmed girls and boys. Entertainment by the Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs, and Choir was well received, whilst Miss L. Hickey and Master D. Westcott recited.

On behalf of the congregation of St. Andrew's Church, Mr. J. W. Baldwin expressed words of welcome to the newly-confirmed, reminding them the "virtue was in the struggle, and not in the reward." He hoped that they would carry out the purposes they had set their minds to, in their journey through life.

The Vicar thanked Mr. Baldwin and also the Rev. E. A. Armstrong and Mr. Rupert Baldwin who were responsible for the evening's entertainment, which all present, he was sure, had enjoyed. He thanked the entertainers, and all those who had helped toward the success of the social hour.

AIRMEN DROWNED.

PLANE CRASHES INTO THE PANAMA CANAL.

New York, Yesterday. Two United States airmen were drowned in the Panama Canal today when their machine crashed.—Reuter's American Service.

SUSPECTED POISONING.

A case of suspected poisoning was reported to Police Headquarters from Kowloon. Two Indian private watchmen, Ramat Alah (45) and Majid Alah (35), and Ho Ka-woo (16) described as a cook, all residing on the third floor of 11, Parkes Street, were removed to the Kowloon Hospital, in a condition which is considered to be serious. The report added that the men had partaken of a drink of tea at 7.20 a.m. yesterday, when they took ill.

"FIRST MAN I KILLED."

Sofa, March 14. During the performance of the play "Le Premier Homme que j'ai Tue" in the Stollcheff Theatre yesterday evening, members of a patriotic organisation showed disapproval by hurling stink bombs compelling the suspension of the performance after the first act.

The police were summoned and ejected the noisier demonstrators but during the third act more stink bombs were thrown, filling the theatre with fumes, to the great discomfort of actors and audience. Ten arrests were made during the evening.—Reuter Wireless.

ATLANTIC LINER REFLOATED.

No Serious Damage to the S.S. Montclare.

PASSENGERS SAFE.

London, Yesterday. The marooned Atlantic liner, s.s. Montclare was refloated today. She was not seriously damaged.—Reuter.

Story of Mishap.

London, Saturday. The Canadian Pacific liner, s.s. Montclare, has gone ashore in the Firth of Clyde in a dense fog, and it is feared she is badly holed.

The ship's lifeboats have landed the two hundred passengers who were aboard at the time.

The 300 passengers on the Montclare had a terrible home coming. Arriving from St. John's (Newfoundland), the vessel was feeling its way up the Clyde in a thick fog. The passengers were gathering their belongings in preparation for landing when they were thrown off their feet with a sharp jerk. They attempted to rush the lifeboats but the captain and crew tactfully checked the impatient panic and landed everybody without casualty on the rock island of Cambray.

After a water-logged sojourn on the island for some hours they were transferred to the mainland and thence to Glasgow. Eight tugs are standing by the damaged liner, which the receding tide has left marooned on the rocks.—Reuter.

[A vessel of 16,314 tons, the Montclare is a well-known Atlantic ship. Built in 1922 by John Brown and Sons, Glasgow, she has twin screws, is 549.5 feet long, 70.2 feet wide, and 40.2 feet deep.]

YU SHUN AGROUND.

MISHAP NEAR CASTLE PEAK IN EARLY MORNING.

IN NO DANGER.

Near the spot at which the steam launch Ho Lo grounded last Tuesday night, the China Merchants S.N. Company's s.s. Yu Shun was stranded at Su Koon Yau, near Castle Peak, early yesterday morning.

The mishap occurred at about 3 a.m., whilst the Yu Shun was on her way home from Canton. There was a thick fog which caused the ship to lose her bearing, and, running into shallow water, she got stuck in the sand. Although pretty high up on the sand at low tide, the Yu Shun is in no danger and expected to get off with the next high tide.

The Yu Shun was to have passed through Hong Kong bound for Shanghai with 600 tons of general cargo and passengers. It will be necessary to remove some of the cargo to lighten the ship and enable her to get off. Several junks are engaged on this work, and it is understood that the tug Henry Keswick is at the scene of the stranding.

An unconfirmed report just before going to press states that the ship has been refloated.

SHIPS IN COLLISION.

The s.s. Kiangsu and Toyooka Maru collided on entering the harbour yesterday off Kowloon Point. Little damage was done, and it

MOVE TO TORPEDO CUSTOMS PACT.

Infringement of Geneva Protocol?

POWERS' OPPOSITION.

Vienna, Yesterday. A move by three Continental Powers apparently to torpedo the proposed Austro-German customs union occurred yesterday, when diplomatic representatives of France, Czechoslovakia, and Italy called on Dr. Schober, the Foreign Minister, and pointed out that the conclusion of such a union would infringe the Geneva protocol of October 4, 1922.—Reuter.

French Press Agitated.

Paris, Yesterday. Distinct fears of a repetition of Nineteenth Century history, when a customs union proved the precursor of a political union in Germany, are betrayed in the newspapers, which regard the new Austro-German agreement as the thin end of the wedge driven through the Article of the Peace Treaty forbidding an Austro-German political union except with the agreement of every member of the League Council.

Several evening papers speak as though the Anschluss (union) is more or less accomplished.

Le Journal des Debats adds dramatically: "And Anschluss means Mittel Europa."

M. Briand was busy all day long with diplomatic exchanges, which is a foretaste of the hectic activity expected in the near future.—Reuter.

AMATEUR BOXING.

CHINA FLEET TITLES DECIDED.

VERY CLEAN FIGHTING.

There was a regrettably poor attendance for the concluding bouts of the China Fleet Amateur Boxing Meeting at the City Hall on Saturday night. One fails to see why it should have been so, for the sport was clean, interesting, and sometimes clever, and quite as well worth watching as some of the professional bouts put on here at times.

For one thing, the rules regarding clean breaks were faithfully adhered to; there was hardly a semblance of a foul blow; and all the scraps were fought out in the best sporting spirit.

Stoker Yarnell, H.M.S. Cumberland, who packs a wallop in both fists, scored two knock-outs to take the welter's title. Against Telegraphist McInnes, of H.M.S. Medway, in the semi-final, he commenced warily, but in the second round went after his man, and dropped him with about the first punch he landed, — a short right to the jaw, — for a longish count. McInnes struggled up, but was almost immediately knocked out with a similar punch.

Short and Sweet.

In the final Yarnell made very short work of A.B. Marsh of H.M.S. Hermes, dropping him in the first few seconds of the first round. Marsh was down a second time before being put to sleep with a hard right swing to the jaw. This was in less than one minute's fighting.

Three excellent reasons for seeing "Madam Satan," at the Queen's Theatre to-day. It is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production.

Marsh had previously fought hard in the semi-finals against a taller man in A.B. Hicks of H.M.S. Cicada, coming along with a wet sail in the third round. He was no doubt a little tired as a result. He showed a useful uppercut to win the decision against Hicks.

A Promising Novice.

O. S. Emmerson, H.M.S. Suffolk, took the lightweight title — a very popular winner, too. He had to go an extra one-minute round in the final against A. B. Baldwin (H.M.S. Hermes), and won by virtue of a furious assault in the first few seconds. Emmerson is a very promising novice with a nice style, but must not lose his head and forget to cover when he has been hit. Nor should he give way to the inclination to "have a go." Baldwin has one idea, and one only — to land a devastating right. He landed it on Emmerson several times, and it nearly won him the fight, although the blows were all more or less telegraphed.

Baldwin was too strong for A. B. Stemp, of H.M.S. Medway, in the semi-final, and won a crude affair by superior strength at close quarters. Emmerson won his semi-final by a fierce rally in the third, his opponent, A. B. Gibbons, H.M.S. Bruce, tiring after a promising opening.

Seddon's Good Win.

O. S. Seddon, H.M.S. Suffolk, beat A. B. Colman, H.M.S. Thracian, in the bantams final. Colman was down twice in each of the three rounds, from short right hooks to the jaw. He was more or less a chopping block in the third, but took a lot of punishment very gamely. Seddon is another promising youngster who can both box and fight.

Marine Carter, H.M.S. Hermes won from A. B. Halcombe, H.M.S. Sterling, in the middleweights. Halcombe could do little against Carter's attack, the Marine covering up and weaving in. Halcombe had not sufficient of a punch to stop him. He boxed his man off cleverly until dropped for a six count in the second. He managed to last out to the end, and was as game as a pebble, though quite played out. The loser had a hard fight in the semi-final with Stoker Moncrieff of H.M.S. Marazion, winning by superior use of the ring. He was obviously tired in the final.

A Game Loser.

A. B. Farrar, H.M.S. Hermes, was too good for A. B. Aldridge, H.M.S. Cumberland, in the featherers final, landing repeatedly with a left head to the face, together with a savage right dig to the body. He forced the pace throughout, and won comfortably. Aldridge was all in at the finish, and could not have carried on very much longer. He was applauded for his gameness.

A Slogging Match.

The light-heavy final, between O. S. House, H.M.S. Cumberland, and A. B. Humphreys, H.M.S. Sirdar, was a slogging match from the start. House boxed right hand forward, and early showed he could hit hard with his left. His swings were wild, but he got several home. Humphreys retaliated with fierce right-hand body digs, but both men were strong, and not hurt much. An extra round was ordered, and House, forcing the pace, just managed to get the verdict.

O. S. Wratten, H.M.S. Suffolk, who fought Emmerson in the light-weights in an earlier round, was awarded the best loser's prize.

OUTLOOK FOR TRAMP SHIPPING.

British Government's Opportunity.

A thoughtful forecast of shipping prospects in 1931 was given to a correspondent of the Journal of Commerce by the E. H. Watts, chairman of Messrs. Watts, Watts and Co., Ltd. (managing owners for the British Steamship Co., Ltd.). During the interview he said:—
"I am not optimistic about the outlook for tramp shipping in 1931, not before September, in any case. The tramp owner to-day must scrutinise with a microscopic eye every detail of his administration ashore and afloat, from the price of white lead to the splicing of old rope, from the tightness of condenser ferrules to the captain's navigation—a hundred and one things. Every item of expenditure must be watched. And when a company attains the impossible—perfection—I doubt if these times would enable the ships to run at a profit."

"A man can have a competent chartering staff, watchful superintendents on deck and below, careful stores buyers, loyalty and keenness amongst the ships officers, but there remains always the one factor over which he has no control and on which his success absolutely depends—international trade."

"The members of my firm believe in extensive foreign travel. It is valuable to know what the other fellow thinks. Between us we have visited a good many countries during the last few months, and what strikes us most forcibly is the general lack of business confidence. Many stocks of merchandise are at the lowest ebb and merchants can obtain their supplies at the manufacturers' cost. One would expect to see courageous buying, but everybody is 'sitting tight.' The fear of social unrest and the unease with which the foreigner views British affairs seems to have set a damper on all."

If Britain Leads.

"If ever a Government had the opportunity of proving its worth, ours has. I believe that when Britain paves the way the world follows, and when we regain confidence, the world will start trading again."

"Now, look at our position in Britain. We have trouble in the Welsh coal fields followed by disturbances in Warwickshire. The cotton trade is upset. Our railways are in the throes of a wages negotiation. How can trade revive under such circumstances? What does our Government do? True, before the coal troubles, they sent Mr. Shinwell to Poland at the country's expense. I assume he verified what most commercial men know, that the Polish cost at a pit of coal is shillings below ours, and that the railways carry it 300 or 400 miles to port for

HORATIUS OF THE THAMES.

Tiny Tug That Guards Town Bridge.

"Mind yer foot, sir... Steady does it, sir... Steady... Right!" I shivered in the bitterness of early morning and huddled in the little boat as she bumped against the steps.
Through the mist, there on the left, you can see the bulk of Tower Bridge. Gosh, it's cold! The river is slate grey sullenly dirty. They are unloading a Hamburg-London freighter just near us, and you can scent the reek of oil and hear the rattle of winches. Through the murk you can see black bulk-huddled lighters and barges. A tug toots suddenly like a frightened moorhen. The river hisses past the dim bridge.
"Lumme, ain't it nippy!"
The ferryman spits on his hands and bends to the oars.
We slide sideways on the current with an ominous smoothness, and then softly... bump... bump... and we are lifting gently against the side of a ship.

Groping in the Mist.

A merry, clean-shaven face in a peaked cap grins from nowhere and yells, "Go careful!"
"Skipper Apps" I shout.
"Aye," replies the merry face, "hurry up aboard."
And groping in the mist I board the tug Mosquito, the guardian of Tower Bridge.

The little Mosquito is the Tower Bridge tug. No boat may pass under the bridge under her own power. The tiny tug is warden of river. In the daytime the great boats and the grunting barges and lighters toot and shriek for Skipper Apps and his Mosquito. The big boats hang signs in their rigging, metal ball by day, red lights at night; the barges and lighters bellow "Oi... Appel!"
"We're waiting to pick up a sailing barge," grinned Skipper Apps, "skipper's gone ashore. Said he'd be back soon. But they're still open I reckon. Make yourself comfortable!"

The crew!
"Like a drop of tea," chuckled Terence O'Keefe.
"Make it easy for him, he doesn't know our tea," smiled Young Platt, his messmate.

Real Tea.

They gave me tea. This was tea. None of your sickly "biscuit and bun" liquids, this, but a Borgis brew which throws this, you down and worries you!
"Women," said Terence casually, "are duds at tea."
"You said it," declared Young Platt.

We began to prepare dinner when Skipper Apps bayled from above. We bolted up the companion.
"O' course he comes back now," said Skipper Apps, pointing to the skipper of the sailing barge. "Just when I want my dinner. Never get any dinner. I do."

The unpunctual barge was raising his anchor and flushing at the imagination of Skipper Apps regarding his progenitors. Quickly we made fast and Apps tooted the siren loudly.

As if by magic the Tower Bridge began to rise. Traffic stopped, bells shrilled, and the bridge split and opened majestically.

"If you foot," does that always happen?" I gasped incredulously.
"Always," smiled Skipper Apps. "And every rise costs twenty pun a Hmo."
And so we sailed proudly by, the tiny Mosquito tooting to the heavens—D. D. in the Daily Express.

"OLDEST ACTIVE SHIPOWNER IN LIVERPOOL."

The oldest active shipowner in Liverpool, if not in the country, Mr. Arthur W. Bibby, will be the recipient of many congratulations on the 85th anniversary of his birth to-day, writes the Journal of Commerce on February 10.

Mr. Bibby may be old in years, but in spirit and enthusiasm he challenges comparison with men many years his junior, while the success that has attended the shipping firm bearing his name is a testimony to his business ability and acumen.

During the period when he held the chairmanship of the Mersey Docks and Harbour Board Mr. Bibby showed a remarkable grasp of its affairs, which enabled him expeditiously to carry through the business meeting of the Board and of the committees with which he was identified.

Another of his activities has been in connection with the training ship indefatigable, in which Mr. Bibby has for many years taken a keen interest, thus maintaining a family connection which dates back to the establishment of the ship.

FENCING DISPLAY.

INITIAL EXHIBITION BY LOCAL CLUB.

SKILL AND GRACE.

An interesting display of fencing, which included individual bouts with foil, epee, and sabre,
as well as a bayonet exhibition,
was given in the gymnasium of
the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club
on Saturday afternoon by members of the local Fencing Club.

Although the Club was formed only a short time ago, the display evidenced the rapid strides made
by some of the members, who,
until a few months ago, had hardly handled a weapon in matchplay; whilst the exhibitions by the senior members were in many cases distinctly impressive.

Foil Exhibition.

The first item on the "programme of events" was an exhibition with the foils between Mr. F. J. T. Locke (formerly of the Salle Bertrand, London) and Commander J. H. P. Southby, R.N., which was interesting for the swiftness and inveteracy of attack and parry, of riposte, re-mise, counter-riposte, and reprise.
Mr. Locke, whose perfect balance, subtlety of attack, and preparedness make him a formidable opponent, scored repeated advantages over Commander Southby,
who, nevertheless, gave a pleasing performance.

Bayonet Contest.

The Bayonet exhibition between Lieut. Woods, R.M., and "Mr.
A. N. Other," proved an entertaining interval in the series of events, the rules and principles
being happily described by Lieut.
A. M. Anstruther, R.E. (also a former pupil of M. Bertrand), who was unfortunately unable himself to take part in the fencing bouts, owing to an injury to his ankle.

Ladies' Foils.

The spectators showed keen interest in the ladies' foils exhibition, and considering that most of the contestants were comparatively novices when they joined the Club, they gave without exception a lively and graceful display. In the first bouts Miss Joan Beavis beat Miss Eileen Bonnar by four points to two, and Miss Hallifax beat Miss Clare by four points to three. Miss Beavis and Miss Clare were by far the most skilled fighters and showed a surprising mastery of the more complicated features of foil-usage.

Epee Pool.

The epee pool, in which Messrs.
Braudie, Southby, Veliki, Somerhough, Woods, and Locke participated, was most exciting.
These matches were decided on points in pools, and were contested on the Yacht Club bowling green. Epee requires even more

TRADE WITH CANTON.

No disconcerting or pessimistic view may be taken of the objective of the commercial mission invited by Canton from Hong Kong to study conditions with a view to encouraging Hong Kong and Straits Settlements merchants to invest in industries in Canton. A commercial entente cordiale between the British Colonies and Kwangtung is most desirable from many angles. Any step taken in this direction, direct or indirect, cannot but reflect to the ultimate advantage of Hong Kong as an entrepot. It is true that the mainland opposite our island—Kowloon and the New Territories—offers immense advantages for the creation and expansion of secondary industries,
with the assurance of permanent protection under the British flag.
That in itself need not impel us
to take the narrow and selfish view of seeking to concentrate only on industry within our own borders. If the Chinese capitalists of Hong Kong and the Straits Settlements are sufficiently impressed by the openings
offered to them in Kwangtung,
there seems no good reason why they should not respond in a very practical manner. As we stated in effect on the eve of the Chinese New Year, trade prosperity for the Chinese implies as a natural corollary trade prosperity for every other section of the community. This is applicable not alone to the Chinese of this Colony, but to the Chinese of Kwangtung and, to a comparative degree, to the Chinese of the Straits Settlements. It has been proven in years gone by that when everything is lovely in the Canton trade garden, everything assumes a rosy hue in the trade intercourse between Hong Kong and Kwangtung.

Within recent months Canadian and United Kingdom trade missions have visited Hong Kong and Canton and explored every possible avenue for expanding Sino-British commerce. Doubtless the inspiration—and the message—of such missions has not been without an influence on the astute Chinese authorities in Canton. Hence the invitation to the commercial mission from Hong Kong to proceed to Canton and study conditions on the spot
with a view to investing in industries in Kwangtung. Be the mission fruitful or barren of concrete results, the opportunity for personal intercourse and consultation between the Chinese mercantile representatives of Hong Kong and the Governmental and mercantile representatives of Canton cannot but be of intrinsic value
no less to this Colony than to Kwangtung. A personal interview is worth more than tons of correspondence in clearing the mist of misunderstanding and removing the barriers of mistrust. It is to Hong Kong's advantage to encourage, by every means possible the trade between Hong Kong and Kwangtung and the trade between the Straits Settlements and Kwangtung.

Our enviable position as an entrepot is a permanent asset that should be exploited to the utter-most—exploited, of course, in the merely commercial sense and not with any idea of taking all and conceding nothing. A commercial rapprochement, to be genuine, must create complete satisfaction in the minds and hearts of both parties to it; leaving no room for evasion or equivocation. On this basis rests the best hope for the success of the Chinese commercial mission
from Hong Kong to Canton.

News in Brief.

A highly successful dance was given in the Garrison-Lecture Hall
on Saturday night by the Chief Petty Officers of H.M.S. Cumberland. Among the 250 guests were Captain L.F. Potter and Col. E.A.
Lang. The "Cumberland" Revelers provided the music, and the lecture
of M.C. was in the hands of Yeeman Dempster. P.O. H. Tibbe was in charge of the arrangements.

The lowest open air temperature yesterday was 61 degrees. The humidity was 79 at 10 a.m. and 73
at 4 p.m.

A girl Li Chuen (16), residing at 72 Ma Tau Wei Road, Kowloon
City, was conveyed to the Kowloon Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries to her head and hands, received as the result of a dynamite blast at the Lee San quarry, Hok-Kok, where she was employed.

Suffering from the effects of opium poisoning, Wong Yue-ku (29), of 55 High Street, was taken to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday by her husband. The opium is alleged to have been self-administered.

ROUND THE CINEMAS

"MADAM SATAN"—AN AMUSING FARCE.

INTRIGUING SITUATIONS.

A highly amusing, but very improbable farce, with a good slice of action, is an adequate summing up of M.G.M.'s spectacular picture,
"Madam Satan", now showing in the Queen's Theatre.
Full of intriguing situations, in which Kay Johnson, Reginald Denny, Lillian Roth, and Roland Young take the leading parts, the picture is a riot of laughs for the first half hour. In spite of the peculiar plot, there is not a touch of vulgarity in any part. Kay Johnson as Angela Brooks, the wife of Bob Brooks (Reginald Denny) believes in making the household perfect and attending to the niceties of life. Bob, on the other hand, believes in "more warmth and less efficiency", and owing to his wife's cold temperament, finds the necessary "warmth" in the person of Trixie (Lillian Roth).
Determined not to lose her husband, Angela becomes "Madam Satan," but not before many humorous situations have arisen. As Madam Satan, Angela attends a masked ball held in a Zeppelin. It is here that the action commences.
Supporting the picture is a Hearst Newsreel.

"THE LOVE DOCTOR"

"The Boomerang" as a stage
play had a pronounced success.
Then it was forgotten for a while.
But Richard Dix discovered it three years ago and wanted to do "The Boomerang" into a movie. The fulfilment of this wish came with his assignment to the Paramount picture, "The Love Doctor," which is the screen adaptation of the stage play and now showing in the Central Theatre.

The story is that of a young doctor who is wise in the ways of love, shies at all marriageable maiden and is madly loved by two of them. Enter a patient with a strange malady known as love.
The doctor bundles the patient off to the country with a nurse who loves the doctor. A young society debutante is now left with a clear field for the doctor's heart.

The doctor lays down his three rules of love for his patients.
First, if you fall in love say so,
if you like, but never let the loved one be quite sure you mean it.
Second, make yourself scarce. Be as devoted as you like but don't always be on hand. Third, try to make the loved one jealous.
Then he promptly visits his patient, feels himself falling for the nurse and leaves to go back to town and forget all about it. But on the way back the canoe tips over and the doctor becomes involved in an affair that keeps him from going back to town.

LAUGHED AT P.C.

STUDENT'S RESPONSE TO A WARNING.

Ng Shu-fook (16), a student of King's College, was this morning charged before Mr. W. Schofield in this Central Magistracy with having played football in Lun Fat Street, on Saturday night. He denied the offence.

A Chinese constable said that when he warned defendant against playing football in the street the latter laughed at him.

The Magistrate agreed with the constable that an early warning was sufficient.

To Inspector McClelland, his Worship said that the constable arrested defendant probably because he had laughed at the warning.

Defendant was discharged with a caution.

OPTIMISTIC THIEF.

Pleading "guilty" in the Kowloon Police Court this morning, to the larceny of a wooden table-top, Cheung Tai was sent to jail for fourteen days. The table-top was the property of a stall hawk at
No. 3, Sai Kung Road, and was of considerable proportions. How the accused expected to get away with it, remains a mystery, since it took two folk to carry it into Court as evidence.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONG KONG.

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 22.

The Golden Text was:—"I am the Lord: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven
images." (Isaiah, 42: 8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:—"Love
not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof, but he that doth the will of God abideth for ever." 1 John,
2: 15, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included
the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:—"The so-called pleasures and pains of matter—perish, and they must go out under the blaze of Truth, spiritual sense, and the actuality of being. Mortal belief must lose all satisfaction in error, and sin in order to part with them." (p. 298).

FOR TOURISTS.

FINE DISPLAY FOR COLUMBUS PASSENGERS.

BLACKWOOD FURNITURE.

"Columbus" tourists, welcome!
To help you get the most out of your comparatively short stay here,
allow us to give you a little advice. Don't miss a visit to the Sincere Co., Ltd., if you want to see something really worth while. This is the emporium which stocks everything, from a packet of pins to exquisite Blackwood furniture, and what is more, being a one price store (the value of everything here compares favourably with prices charged in other places), saves you time bargaining, which is "old custom" and fast disappearing in the local Chinese shops.

Your visit to this Isle of Fragrant Streams cannot be complete unless you see the special display which Sincere's, the first Chinese-run department store in this part of the world, has arranged for you.

The special tourists' display will be found on the ground floor to the left of the main entrance. It is called the "Tourists' Souvenir Department." The pretty little structure in which the department is housed is called a "pai-lau" by the Chinese. It is a wonderful example, in miniature, of the quaint, picturesque Chinese architecture, resplendent with its many bright-coloured scheme of decoration.

Inside this "pai-lau" is a very choice and splendid array of China ware, which includes all the various arts and crafts which are peculiar to the Chinese and cannot be equalled by the craftsmen of any other country.

Scenes from the Classics.
Foremost in the display is the lacquer ware from Foochow, the home of this craft. Particularly beautiful examples are beautiful lacquer pieces specially designed to hang on the wall which cannot fail to arrest attention.

Chinese Arts and Crafts.
While you are in this store, make it a point to go to the fourth floor
and inspect their fine array of ready made blackwood furniture. It is a mistaken idea with Westerners that everything Chinese must be at least a hundred years old to be really good—in fact, that Chinese arts and crafts are dead if not actually buried! A visit to Sincere's furniture department will convince you of the fallacy of this belief. Chinese arts and crafts have advanced with the times, and the modern designs and carvings in blackwood furniture compare well with those of the old school, and there are many who think that they are even more artistic. The well spoken, courteous assistants at Sincere's will be glad to give visitors any information which they may require, so don't hesitate to ask them questions about how blackwood is carved and polished, and lacquer ware made, only to mention two handicrafts.

Chinese Food.
For the benefit of those who wish to taste Chinese food, Sincere's have arranged special menus which will be served in their roof garden restaurant. Buy a pair of ivory chopsticks and a pretty porcelain bowl from the souvenir department, and these, together with the menu card, will serve as pleasant reminders for years to come of your visit to Hong Kong.

MENACE TO MOTORS.

OBSTRUCTION OF CEMENT BAGS
AND SAND.

CONTRACTORS FINED.

In the Central Police Court this morning, before Mr. W. Schofield, two Chinese contractors, Kun Kwan and Lo Fo, were charged with having caused obstruction in Tin Lok Lane and Luard Road, respectively, with cement bags and sand. Both pleaded guilty.

Prosecuting, Sergt. Goldsmith said that 35 bags of cement were placed in Tin Lok Lane, at the south end on Morrison Hill Road,
where there was a blind corner.
This was aggravating, as there was a very grave danger of a motor collision. A fine of $20 was imposed.

In the second case, Sergt. Goldsmith stated that defendant "occupied half of Luard Road" with sand. His Worship imposed a fine of $15.

Ten Years Ago.

"From the 'China Mail' of March 23, 1921."

To-day's dollar is worth 2/4%.

A pretty Chinese wedding was celebrated in St. Paul's Church on Monday afternoon, when Dr. Chau Wai-chung, local medical practitioner, recently graduated from the Hong Kong University, was married

YOUR VISIT TO HONG KONG

HOW TO MAKE IT INTERESTING AND MEMORABLE.

A GUIDE FOR THE TOURIST.

You don't have to be a geographer to have heard of Hong Kong. Whether you come from a "tall grass region" of the United States or from a gigantic City that has no time to bother about other places, the name will be familiar to you. After all, it is one of the greatest ports in the world, possessing an ideal harbour, which makes it eminently suitable for the extensive entrepot trade with China. As for beauty of scenery, you have the essence of the Orient cheek by jowl with views that rival Japan, the South of France, the West Coast of England, and the Highlands of Scotland. Whether or not you are to enjoy your visit depends wholly upon the manner in which you go about your sight-seeing. Below we offer to the tourist a few hints, the fruits of experience, which, if taken, will enable him to see and enjoy the best that the Colony can offer in the least possible time.

We shall have to begin with a little history. In the first place,
the two words Hong Kong mean
"Fragrant Harbour"—it is not difficult to see why. Prior to 1841
there was no recognised name for the island. The anchorage at Aberdeen (a picturesque fishing village on the side opposite the Harbour)
was known to sailors as Heung Kong. The Chinese characters representing that name may be translated by "Fragrant Stream" or "Fragrant Harbour." Another possible rendering is "Heung's Harbour," the haunt of a notorious pirate named Heung.

Kowloon (the mainland opposite Hong Kong) is the anglicised form of the Chinese Kau Lung (nine dragons). This name is derived from the ridge of nine hills which form a rampart along the northern side of the harbour and seem to be guarding the approach to China.
You may see them from your ship—
quite plainly.

Hong Kong became a British Colony in 1841. In 1860 about two square miles of the mainland of Kowloon and Stonecutters' Island were leased in perpetuity. The district called the "New Territory"
was leased to Great Britain in 1898
for a period of ninety-nine years.
It covers 876 square miles and includes the island of Lan Tau and the waters of the farther shores of Deep Bay and Mira Bay. So much for history.

The Old and the New.
Few people can realise how great
has been the change in the island
since the British administration. A book entitled "China," published in 1847, contains a chapter with the following heading: "Hong Kong, its position, prospects, character, and utter worthlessness from every point of view to Britain." To-day one laughs at that prophecy. However, when it was written there seemed reasons for such a foreboding for the place had an unenviable reputation for rainstorms,
typhoons, pirates, poisoners,
malaria, and dysentery, and in Britain contempt for the new Colony

was expressed in the popular song,
"You may go to Hong Kong for me."
Singular Beauty.

To-day this formerly despised possession is one of the world's busiest ports and the admiration,
without exception, of every visitor to its shores. From the sea, and especially from the magnificent harbour, which faces the capital,
the general aspect of Hong Kong is one of singular beauty. The hills are generously planted with Japanese firs, and the streams, which are plentiful, are traced through the uplands and glens by a line of straggling brushwood and herbage.
The hills, which are mainly composed of granite, rise in irregular masses to considerable heights, the loftiest point, Victoria Peak, adjoining the residence of His Excellency the Governor (Sir William Peel, C.M.G.), reaching an altitude of 1825 feet.

There abound beautifully laid-out gardens, public and private, and solidly constructed roads, some of them bordered with bamboos and other delicately-fronded trees, and fringed with the luxuriant growth of semi-tropical vegetation. The temperature has a yearly range of
from 45 to 99 degrees, but it occasionally falls below 40, and ice has been known to occur on the Peak.

The Shopping Centre.
Naturally you will be interested to hear about the City and the wonderful shops, both European and Chinese, which attract the tourist from all parts of the world. The central areas of the City are well built, the roads and streets are for the most part admirably made and kept up and many of the thoroughfares delightfully shaded with well-grown trees. The European business quarter occupies the middle of the City, from Pottinger Street to the Naval Yard, but with the exception of this limited area almost all the lower levels, especially the western district, are covered by a dense mass of Chinese shops and tenements. On the mainland new industrial and residential areas are rapidly springing up.

For the lover of the by-ways, and for those seeking the unusual purchase (who does not?), we would suggest a trip that can be both interesting and profitable. Few tourists, even many residents of the Colony, have heard of a district in Hong Kong called "Paddy's Market." The origin of the name is obscure—some enterprising Irishman was at the bottom of it, undoubtedly. This section of Hong Kong is said to resemble the remote shopping sections of old Peking, or possibly the "Thieves' Market" of Shanghai.

Ivory and Jade.
Surprisingly good things, such as old bits of porcelain and ivory, dragon gongs, bronze plaques, in base relief of ancient Chinese characters, antedating the Ming Dynasty. Oddly carved discs and pendants in Carnelian and jade, rare
snuff bottles, lovely enamelled ware,
and many more exquisite objects
of art are to be found in this quarter,
which may be found in Tung Street,
just off Queen's Road West. A ricksha will take you there for twenty cents.

Hours can be spent sauntering about in the curio shops in the middle of the City. Most of the curio dealers speak a little English.
Rare and valuable objects can be secured if patience is exercised and one is not pressed for time. The average tourist on first coming to China is so thrilled with the beautiful and unusual goods offered that discretion flies to the winds; boxes
and luggage are filled with a hodgepodge assortment of "things Chinese." The temptation to buy and buy is irresistible, and on returning home one is often filled with dismay
at money squandered on the valueless and ordinary. Whereas, a few hours spent in study, while contemplating the trip, and by familiaris-ing oneself, if only to a small extent, with the treasures
and crafts that each particular dynasty produced, would repay the tourist tenfold.

BLACKWOOD FURNITURE

Cheaper in Hong Kong Than in Straits.

ADORABLE CURIO SHOPS.

Large Varieties of Canton Shawls.

Hong Kong's chief attraction is its adorable curio shops. As you step out of the revolving door of the Hong Kong Hotel and look in the direction of Wyndham Street, the fascinating shop windows burst upon you in their full glory each one more entrancing than the last. The variety of articles made to tempt money from the pocket of a Scrooge is amazing and what is still more so is that in all this wealth of choice there is scarcely an unbeautiful object.

What can one buy? For the collector there is porcelain, old and new, carved ivory, Japanese and Cantonese, enamel work, lacquer, jade, paintings on silk and on rice paper, and among modern work, trifles in Chinese silver and the rather beautiful clear glass fashionable just now. The house-proud may revel in blackwood furniture, Poncehew lacquer, lovely Tientsin carpets, or silk embroidered cushions, while the merely vain will sigh for necklaces of Peking crystal jade, ivory and amber, for gorgeous Canton shawls or for delicately carved ivory toilet sets. There is something for every taste and for every purse. It is, however, emphatically a case of "Caveat Emptor" for whatever piece of porcelain the unwary visitor admires promptly becomes Ming or Sung, very cheap, $50. Now it has to be remembered that Chinese porcelain is a life study and not to be lightly undertaken by a novice, that real Ming or Sung would cost nearer $500 than $50, and that experts from all over the world are commissioned by the big dealers to buy fine pieces as they come on the market. In the circumstances it is unlikely that the amateur will make any sensational bargains, and the best line to take is to select something you really like and, disregarding the fancy price asked, offer what it is worth to you. You may not get all the lovely things you covet but you will get a proportion of them. There is one shop, however, where prices are more or less fixed and one may obtain a piece of genuine Sung for $900 or so; it contains specimens of every kind of object de vertu that China produces and is well worth a visit even from those who have no intention of buying.

Well Designed.

Blackwood furniture will attract many. It seems marvellously cheap in Hong Kong compared with Singapore and the small pieces are easily carried back. It must be confessed that much of the modern blackwood furniture being made now is atrocious and too many drawing-rooms in Hong Kong are filled with its funeral connotations to their utter confusion, nevertheless much of it is well made, well designed and well carved and an ounce of taste on the buyer's part will procure some charming examples. Jade is another commodity over which the novice stands a good chance of being really well "done down" and would be wise to seek the help of a connoisseur before spending much money.

It is possible even in the three days allowed, to go to Canton where ivory and wood-carving is carried on, and buy there; the present Generalissimo is favourable to the British and the trip can be made at night by steamer returning the following afternoon. There is much to see there but most of us will probably have had enough of travel by water for the time being and be satisfied with bargain chasing in Hong Kong.

I SEE EVERYTHING

The Seven-Eyed "Kwanyon" exhibited at

The Sculptor of China is the oldest art we know and lately figures and animals have been found which are so perfect in design and life-like attitude that they well compare with the best period of Greece. There is a pair of "Kwanyon" exhibited at Messrs. Komor & Komor's art gallery, corner of Lee House Street and Chater Road and Tibetan origin supposed to be of the Sung Dynasty A.D. 959-1273. They are 4 feet high and wonderfully preserved. The right hand to right knee suggests "I swear by the earth." The left hand with the eye upwards in attitude of teaching denotes

I see everything, I see everything,
I promise! I warn! I give you all but

Keep to my instructions.

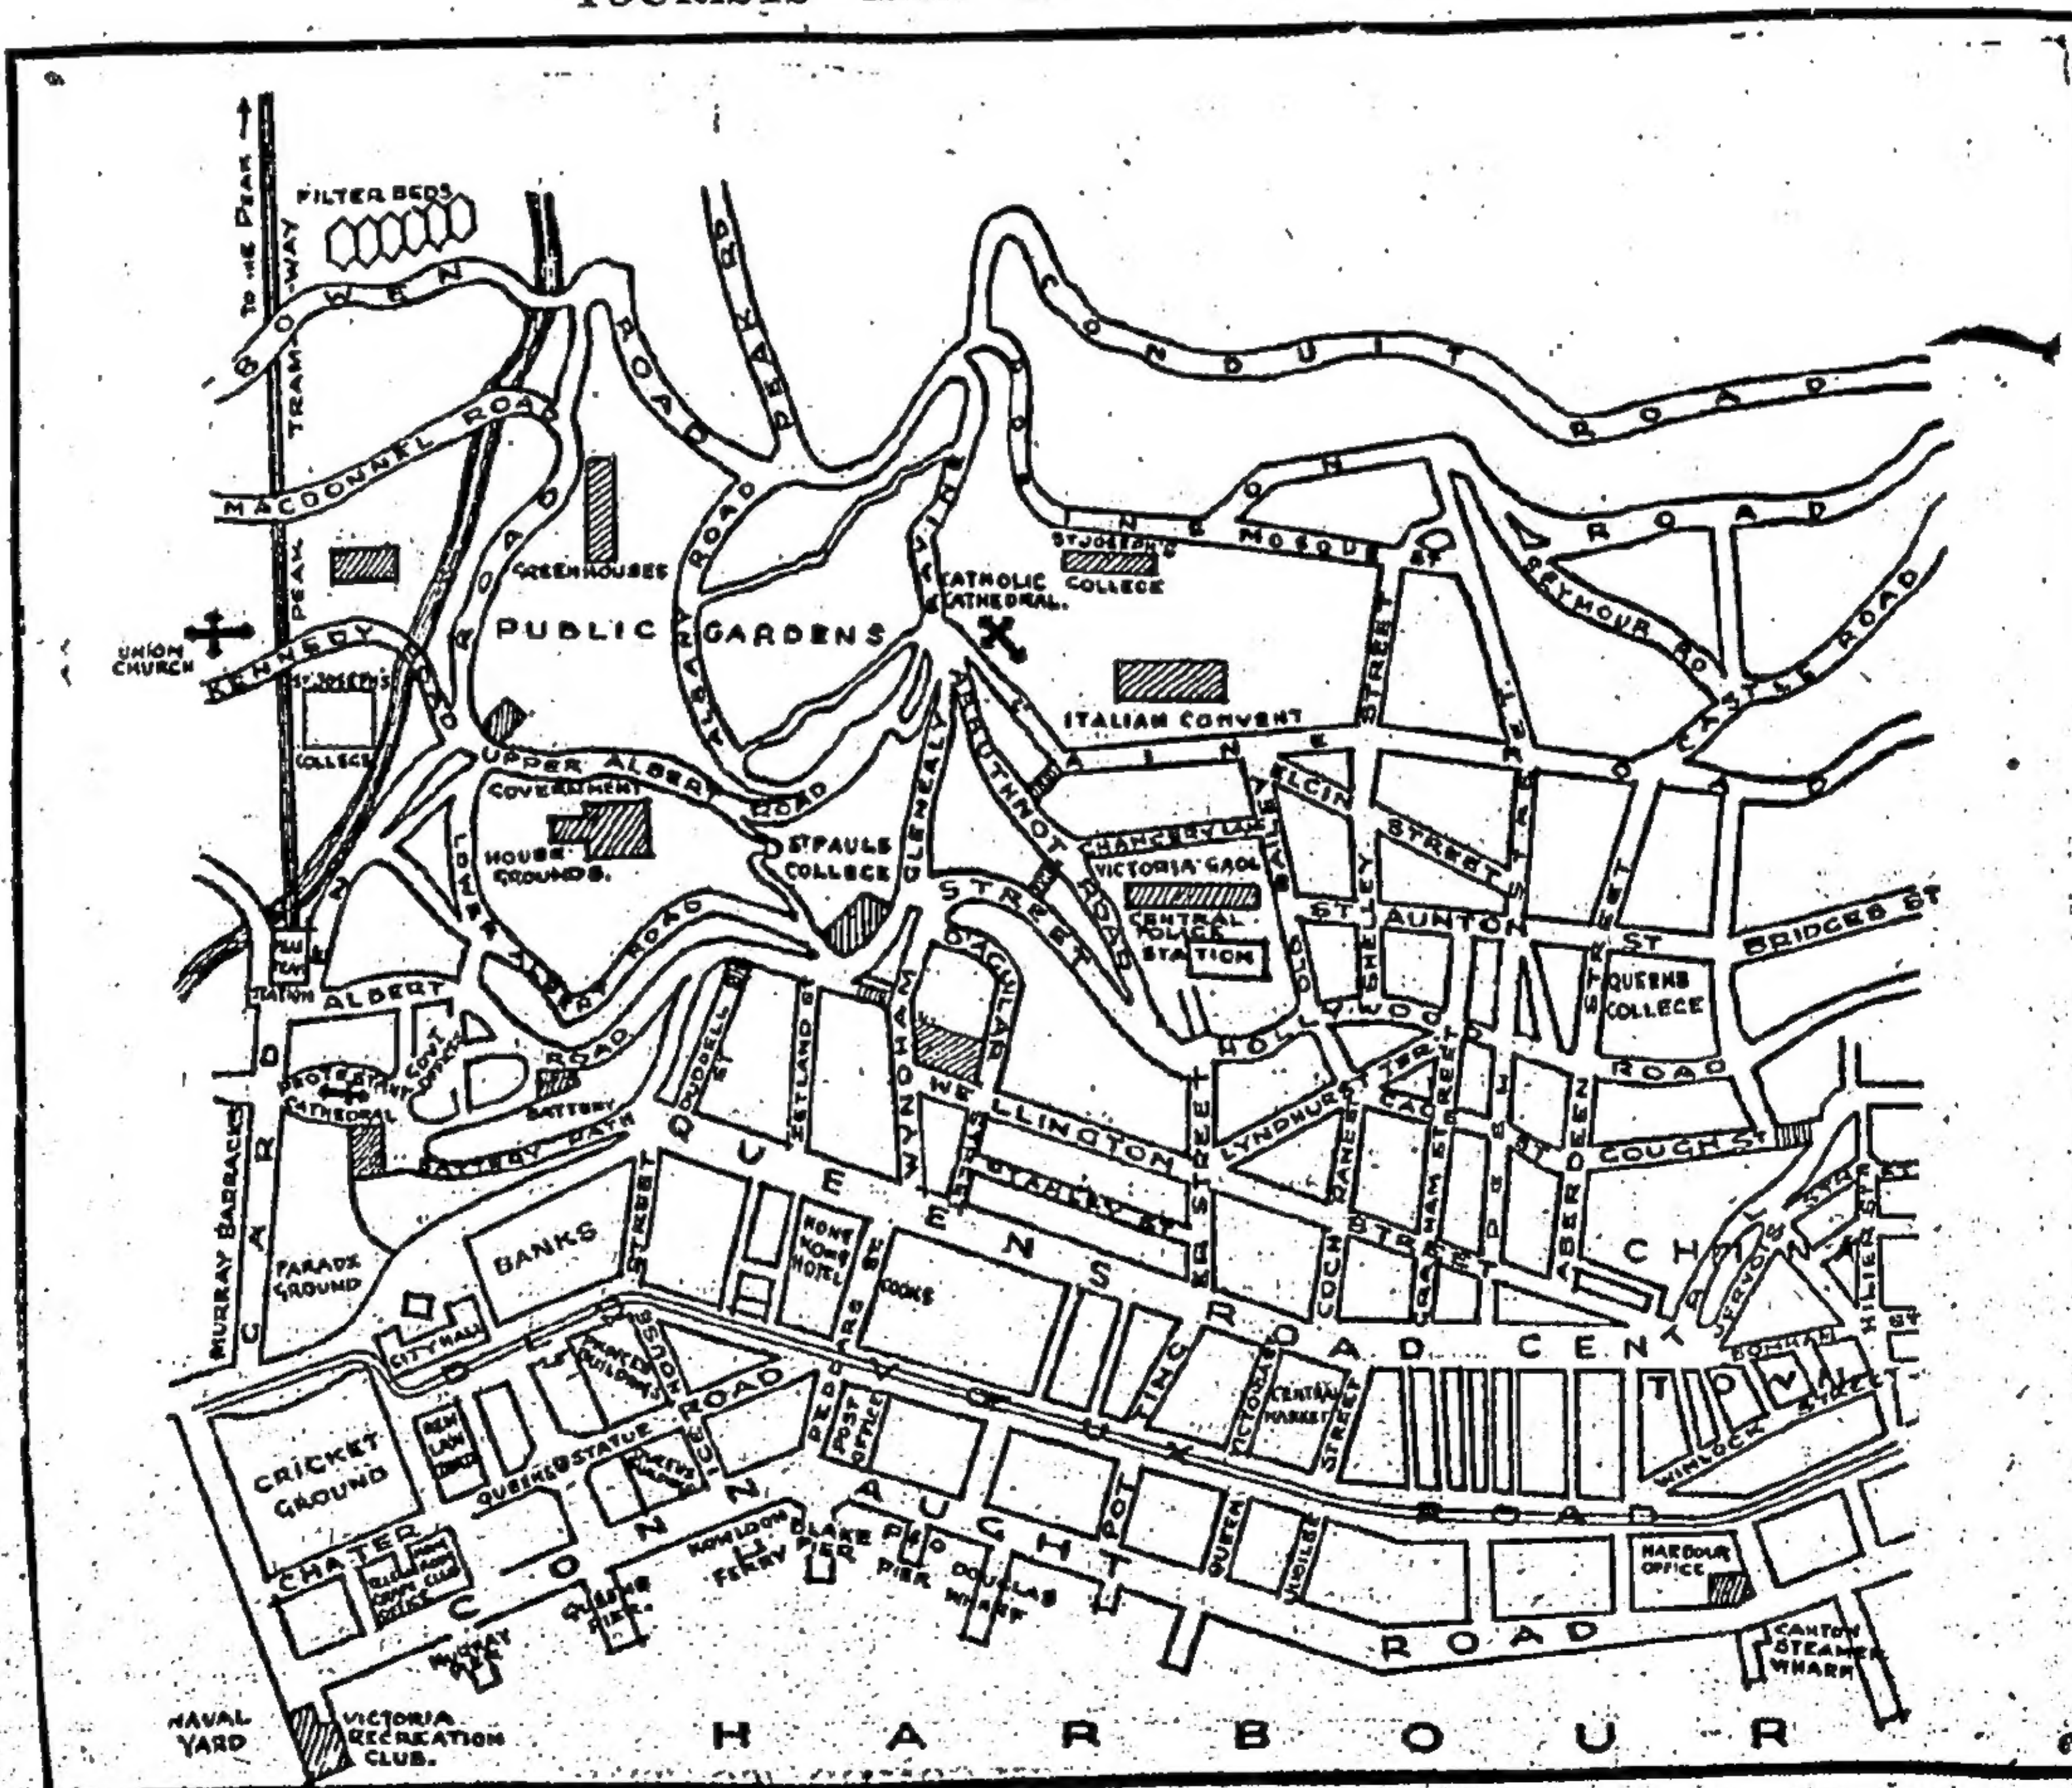

It is remarkable what influence these figures have on everyone who sees them. Ladies, especially, seem to be hypnotised and come again and again to see them and, as they say, feel happy and contented after gazing at the Kwanyon.

It is said that Buddhistic figures influence certain persons and according to Chinese belief a Buddhistic figure which fascinates you is sure to bring luck, health, and happiness to you if you possess it and the great sage Mr. Komor tells some remarkable authentic stories of Buddhas which changed the life of many people through the influence of Buddhistic figures.

It may be the pleasing features or artistic attitude which suits the nerves and we would recommend you if you feel nervous or you are out of luck to go and see Messrs. Komor and Komor's well known art gallery and find out what truth there is in this Oriental superstition.

Komor & Komor's art gallery is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. one block from Hong Kong landing of the Kowloon ferry.

ments will be found in this Supplement will be only too glad to give expert advice on the curios they exhibit for sale. It must be remembered, however, that a really good example of jade, amber, or porcelain is assessed at its full value and cannot always be picked up for a "song."

Three Tours.

Great credit is due to the Government of Hong Kong in providing splendid motor roads, which make motoring a pleasure. Below we append three trips around the island, all of which are easily accessible and have been drawn up so as to give the visitor a fair indication of the beauties of the Colony.

Tour 1.

The party should start at about 11.45 a.m. by motor car from the centre of the town and proceed past the Lower Tram Station to Government House, the Dairy Farm, and Upper Road to Repulse Bay.

Tiffin at Repulse Bay Hotel, about noon.
Leaving Repulse Bay at 2 p.m. and proceeding round the Island via Quarry Bay and Happy Valley arriving back in town about 2.45 p.m. Distance covered about thirty miles.

Tour 2.

Commencing from centre of town, via Lower Peak Tram Station and as above to Repulse Bay, thence the Peak Hotel via Stubbs' road. Finishing with auto at the Peak Hotel.

From the Peak Hotel the ascent by chair to the Flag Staff should not be missed. Descent to the City may be made by the Peak Tramway. Chair and Tram fares are not included in the above fares.

Tour 3.

Round the Island

What has been well described as one of the most magnificent drives in the world is that by motor car round the Island. The route followed is from Queen's road Central, thence into Garden-road, past Government House and the Botanic Gardens, along Causeway, Bonham-road, past the University of Hong Kong, along Pokfulam-road, Aberdeen-road, and Repulse Bay, where a stop can be had for refreshments or the more enjoyable tiffin. Leaving Repulse Bay Hotel the journey is proceeded with to Stanley Bay, Tyntak Reservoir, and Sai Wan Gap and thence to Shaikwan. Within a short time Taikeo Dock is reached, and from there it is a very short drive back to the original point of departure.

The entire drive covers a distance of 26 miles, but the scenery en route cannot adequately be described in mere prose. It has to be seen to be appreciated as it deserves. Next to the ascent and descent of the Peak it is a trip that no tourist should omit from his programme of sight-seeing.

Other Places of Interest.

Apart from motor launches that take the visitor to Stonecutters' Island and numerous inlets, abounding in most beautiful scenery, there is much to entertain, amuse and instruct without resort to vehicles. The Chinese curios shops and Indian stores cannot well be passed over by those in search of novelty or for a souvenir of their visit to this enchanted isle. There is, "China Town," teeming with thousands of Chinese living in narrow streets where one can almost stretch hands across the "thoroughfare," and where glimpses may be had of typical Chinese life in all its varied phases.

A good combination is a bus or motor car drive to Aberdeen (already referred to) and a tour through the Chinese fishing village. If time permits there is also a quaint little hamlet, Apichau, which can be reached in a few minutes by sloop. The return journey from Aberdeen can be made by launch, in which case the scenery fringing the harbour approaches will be found very attractive after the spell through the Chinese quarters of Aberdeen and Apichau.

For the individual who cares not for the joys of motoring a casual walk through the heart of the city will reveal much of interest in the way of public buildings and statues, including—although some way out—the University of Hong Kong. There are taxicabs and jinrikishas, not to mention sedan chairs, but in the case of the two latter the legal fare should always be ascertained beforehand as otherwise the "stranger within the gates" may find himself the victim of profiteering.

Chair and Jinrikisha Fares.

For chairs the tariff is—two bearers—15 cents for the first ten minutes; 20 cents for a quarter of an hour; 30 cents for half an hour; and 25 cents for every subsequent hour. For four bearers the fares are exactly double, with the exception that every subsequent hour after the first is charged 40 cents. Jinrikisha charges are: 10 cents for 10 minutes; 20 cents for a quarter of an hour, 30 cents for half an hour; and 40 cents for an hour.

Kowloon and New Territories.

A reference to Kowloon has already been made in the third of the suggested tours—namely, to Castle Peak, Fanling, Tai Po and Shatin.

A good afternoon's outing can be spent at Kowloon City, omnibuses to which run from the Star Ferry at Kowloon Point (10 cents fare from Hong Kong to Kowloon). En route a glimpse is afforded of the whole of the Kowloon Bay, with Lyemooon Pass in the distance. Eventually the granite wall of the old city of Kowloon will be reached, containing the old-time residence of the official representative of the Emperor of China.

There is also a School for the Blind, where dainty articles may be purchased.

Returning by a bus, marked "Yamat" the tourist can alight in Jordan-road and spend an enjoyable time in King's Park, where are laid out football, tennis, and bowls grounds for various Clubs and institutions.

As an alternative a visit may be commended to Kowloon Tong, which lies off the main bus and motor road in Kowloon, namely, Nathan Road. This is destined to be a model settlement and garden city combined, and the self-contained houses, each with a strip of garden, are a distinct change from the row upon row of flats which the vehicles pass in Nathan and other roads in Kowloon.

Lovers of lawn bowls are well catered for. Besides the rinks of the Club de Recreio at King's Park there are bowling greens at the Kowloon Bowling Green Club, in Austin Road (off Nathan Road), the Kowloon Cricket Club, and the Kowloon Dock. Tennis can be had at many Club courts at King's Park, at the United Services Club (opposite King's Park), the Kowloon Cricket Club and the Kowloon Bowling Green Club. Football is played at King's Park and on the ground of the Kowloon Football Club, facing the harbour in Chatham Road. Cricket is provided at King's Park and at the Kowloon Cricket Club.

Sport in Hong Kong.

On the Island there is no end to the variety of outdoor sport to be indulged in or watched, the principal ground being at Happy Valley, which can be reached in a very short time by tramcar, taxi, or motor car, not to mention the slower jinrikisha if time is no object. There is a fine Racecourse, where races are held at various periods from the middle of February to the beginning of December.

Of other sports to be had at Happy Valley, there are football ("soccer" and Rugby codes), cricket, baseball, and tennis. The "home" of local cricket is the Hong Kong Cricket Club opposite Murray Barracks in Queen's Road. It is on this ground that interport matches are played, teams coming once in two years from Shanghai and frequently from Malaya.

For the tourist cooped up at sea for days, and there are many facilities for lunch (of tiffin) and dinner including the Hong Kong

Travellers' cheques can be cashed and payments made on letter of credit issued by other bankers, by Messrs. Thomas Cook and Son, the C.P.R., and the American Express Co.

The principal exchange banks are: The Hong Kong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, Chartered Bank of India, Australia, and China, the Mercantile Bank of India, the Banque de l'Indo-Chine, and the City National Bank of New York (International Banking Corporation)—all situated in Queen's Road Central.

may be recommended to purchase a copy of the "Dollar Directory" published at 3A, Wyndham Street.

CANTON.

The commercial Capital and most interesting City of South China, is in direct communication with Hong Kong by steamer railway. There are daily services of steamers both directions. The journey is about 6½ to 8 hours by steamer, according to steamer and tide, and 4½ hours by train.

On arrival in Canton visitors are met by an experienced and competent guide who has conducted the principal visitors through this fascinating City for many years. The tour usually embraces Chun-ka-chi Ancestral Temples, Temples of the 500 Geni, City of the Dead, Kingfisher's feather, Work-Jade, Ricspaper picture Painters, Flowery Pagoda, Jade Stone Street, Old Embroidery Shops and Sai Hing Street, etc.

"ROMANCE" OF THE EAST.

Where the Tourist May Find It.

DON'T BE CRITICAL.

Perhaps your visit to the Far East is the culmination of long-cherished desires; the fulfilment of hopes that have increased with the years and the reading of books about the Orient. It is so with a great many people who sail into Hong Kong harbour on one of the great liners; they bring with them romantic ideas, and often go away with nothing but coloured beads, bits of jade, houri coats, and pieces of carved ivory. When asked about the fascination of the East, they are rather vague. They found it so much like other cities, so lacking in that colour they had been led to expect, that on the whole they were rather disappointed.

Quite Wrong.

Of course, they are quite wrong. The East is fascinating, irresistibly so, even when you have lived in it for several years. In fact, the longer you live in it the harder is it to leave and to settle down elsewhere. There is romance to be found in the East, too, but great numbers of people will pass it by. It all depends on the way you look at things. You see just what you want to see; you never can see all that there is to be seen, even if you are the most perspicacious observer in the world. Hong Kong is one of the most beautiful places in the East; on a fine February day when the sea is blue as the Mediterranean and the acaenas are in bloom, it seems to combine the colourful warmth of the South of France with the delicate and mysterious enchantment of Japan. It is a willow pattern land, peopled with quaint figures, strange customs, modernity flirting with the mediaeval, and eloquent with a queer assurance that it is different from and never will be the same as the West. You feel the Great Wall towering above you, shutting off the East things that are Occidental as effectively as if there were a real barrier.

Pirates and Smugglers.

Your ship berths at Kowloon and you take the Ferry to Hong Kong. Nothing remarkable there, you may say. But odd craft will glide under your bows with a spread of tattered sail and each one, may be, could tell a tale of more adventures, thrills, and mysteries than you will ever find in the pages of Conrad, or Jack London, or Lafcadio Hearn. Some are honest trading junks, bound for Singapore, or Saigon, or Hainan, with cargoes which you would not consider valuable—wood, oil, silk, sugar, or preserved ginger. Others come and go on mysterious journeys which may land them on a dangerous shoal or on the gibbet. These waters, so calm, so blue, so teeming with the ordinary traffic of commerce, also carry upon their bosom men who are pirates or who have been pirates; opium and cocaine smugglers; traffickers in arms; men whose very presence here is a danger to humble fishermen. So perhaps when you see a junk and admire the tawny spread of its sail you will realise that it is something more than a vessel of wood with an expressionless Oriental at the helm.

Romance of Trade.

When you land you may go to the Hong Kong Hotel for luncheon (we call it tiffin out here) and meet very ordinary-looking business men solemnly engaged in a discussion on the dollar (the prevailing topic in Hong Kong now), and you may think that such sights may be seen every day in London, or Paris, or New York, or wherever you come from; and you may think that it was a pity to travel 15,000 miles or so for that. Some of these people, however, own ships, and hotels, and commercial houses, and newspapers. The very rope that tethered your liner to the quay at Home may have come from their factories; great Chinese Generals may have settled a war in their hotels; the delicious preserved ginger which your sister or cousin is eating at this moment in your Hometown may have been bottled in these attractive cherry blossom jars in Hong Kong. The East, while keeping a strict reserve and changing not one jot in essentials, is lending a hand to the great wheel of commerce which turns the flow of food, materials, embroideries, and silks into your wardrobes and your kitchens.

Objects of Interest.

In the streets you will find objects of interest that should always remain in your memories. You will find men in strange clothes, men in hardly any clothes at all; lovely girls in dresses that would make Bond Street, or Fifth Avenue or the Boulevard St. Germain stare with envy. You will find little temples hidden away in dark alleys; funeral and wedding processions which have not changed very much for hundreds of years, attended by pipers and little girls in weird head-dresses; you will meet intelligent men who still light crackers to scare away the devils; you may visit (if you have a Chinese friend) divans where men pass the hours in dreams rivaling those of De Quincey, and restaurants, as brightly lit as Piccadilly, where singing girls will entertain you in their quaint fashion for a few dollars. But this is only a tithe of what is to be seen. It is impossible to visit our Colony and go away with the feeling that your life has not been enriched with a new and wonderful experience. Let part of Caesar's dictum be your motto—"I came and saw."

"RAMALOSH."

JEWELS AND CURIOS.

THE JADE TREE INC.

The other day passing through the Peninsula Hotel with time hanging heavily on my hands, I felt justified in taking a look at the attractive display of this store. By the name on the windows I felt as if jade alone would assuage my eyes. But not I was agreeably surprised to see a choice selection of curios, an enviable collection of fantastic Oriental jewellery, and delicate cloisonne ware. Having feasted my eyes on these objects of delight I turned to what I might call the inner chamber to find other agreeable surprises in exquisite tastes: in lingerie and embroideries. My attention was then drawn to the most select of rugs that I have seen in the Colony, and my admiration was not lost on the lacquer so neatly and yet so subtly displayed. Though my visit caused my hand to seek my purse more than I later regretted as wise, I spent a very profitable afternoon in this store, and received admirable attention from those in charge.

WAI KEE.

This reliable firm of expert dealers and valuers of jade, antiques, precious stones, Chinese and Oriental works of art, jewellery, etc., is situated in the ground floor of the Hong Kong Hotel Building, at the corner of Queen's Road and Pedder Street. Mr. Wai Kee, the founder of the firm which was started some 40 years ago, is still actively connected with the business and delights to show visitors round his well stocked shop, and he talks very interestingly on every phase of his business. He also has a very good memory for faces and nothing pleases him better than to welcome globe-trotters who re-visit his shop after long intervals.

GOLDEN DRAGON.

The Golden Dragon, one of the stores in the Peninsula Hotel Arcade, creates a big impression with its delightful display of Chinese embroidered silks which I believe are in exclusive designs. A large array of linen goods give food for intensive thought and speculation. A store of a hundred fancies!

WANG HING.

For gold and silver ware of Chinese design and workmanship, visit Wang Hing's shop. This long-standing firm of jewellers have premises at No. 10, Queen's Road Central, very near to the Hong Kong Hotel. They have a reputation amongst foreign residents for fair dealing. The jade stone obtainable here are among the best to be found in Hong Kong, absolutely flawless and of delicate hues.

The Hong Kong Office of the firm is at 49, Queen's Road Central where you are always welcome to look through their large and varied stock. The firm's factory is at 40, Po Wah Kar Street, Canton. It would be useful to bear in mind also that there is a branch office in Peking at 11, Partze Hutong where jewellery, etc., of peculiar Northern designs are on view.

LOONG SHING.

If it is jade that you are after go the Loong Shing. This shop is located at No. 48 Queen's Road Central and has a collection of genuine Jade jewellery which is hard to beat. The word genuine is always emphasised where Loong Shing is concerned, and the stress is very necessary because of the inevitable presence of imitation jade on the market, and one cannot be too careful when buying jade from a shop. Colours of false stones are so attractive that not only foreigners but Chinese people are "taken in" (so to speak) by the fakes. It is therefore wise for tourists to deal with shops that are only reliable. With Loong Shing there is no doubt as to that. This shop came into existence in 1864 and during a period, which extends over 60 years, Loong Shing has gained a great reputation for reliability and fairness in dealing.

LOCK HING.

Specialisers in dealing with curios since 1870, Lock Hing is another of Hong Kong's long established and reliable Chinese firm. The shop is at No. 33 Queen's Road Central. Some of the pieces to be found in this shop cannot be duplicated. Everything is absolutely genuine, and, best of all, the prices are competitive. Lock Hing's also deal in fine Shanghai and Canton silks, grass cloths, embroideries, crepes, chic shawls, and ivory, bronze, lacquered, cloisonne ware, porcelain and ornaments of gold and silver, and the work of master craftsmen. Gold and silver jewellery can also be made to order. They are also manufacturers of Blackwood furniture both inlaid and carved chairs, tables and stands, all well made and beautifully finished.

KOMOR'S.

The establishment is under the management of Mr. Komor, an authority on Chinese and Japanese art who joined the firm (Kuhn & Komor) forty years ago and whose collection is a household word under curio collectors.

The collection on exhibition is the finest in the Far East, and we need hardly add, shall so strengthen your collection or to the beginner, make so proud his humble lot, that in both cases he shall be the envy of his friends in U.S.A. and at home. You find articles there for prices ranging from one dollar up to thousands of dollars.

CHUI YUEN.

The difference between feasting one's eyes upon the Crown Jewels in the Tower of London and upon those jewels in 39A, Queen's Road Central, is that in the case of the former one pays for the privilege, and in the case of the latter one is cordially invited to do so. At this store one can have a glimpse of all the jewels of the East laid out in the most impressive manner. When visiting Hong Kong, no one should fail to examine the display of jewellery consisting of jade, pearls, agates, crystal, amethysts, lapis lazuli, turquoise, coral, old ivory, cornelian, cloisonne, amber beads, and all manner of stores.

The repair of all jewellery, at a moderate cost, is undertaken; and work will be completed even at six hours' notice.

THE CHINA JADE CO.

Nowhere in the Far East can beautiful jade be bought in bigger variety, and at more moderate prices, than in Hong Kong.

His stock includes delicate porcelain dinner, tea and coffee services, made in Canton and Nanking, daintily tinted in green and gold, blue and white, and exquisite five colour combinations. Other goods stocked in a wide range of selections to appeal to all tastes are earthenware, Blackwood furniture, fancy bamboo ware, rattan ware, brass ware, Canton enamelled ware, Peking cloisonne, lacquer ware, straw and grass ware, green jades, jewellery, old embroideries, silk shawls, rice paper pictures, amber ware, bone and ivory ware, mother of pearl ware, Chinese musical instruments, old china ware, bronze and curios, and all descriptions of Chinese novelties and fancy goods.

His prices are reasonable, and he gives tourists full benefit of the low exchange on the silver dollar.

HOTELS.

HONG KONG HOTEL.

During your short sojourn here, you will find that the Hong Kong Hotel, the Peninsula Hotel, and the Repulse Bay Hotel are the best and most aristocratic places to make your temporary headquarters. A reputation acquired such as that of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels Ltd., can scarcely be unfounded, and their popularity can be testified by all travellers in Eastern climes.

HOTEL CECIL.

The Hotel Cecil has commenced life in a very promising manner, and, though not possessing an age-old reputation, it has in its short career maintained a very high standard of service which has been greatly appreciated by both residents and visitors. A moment for cocktail-sipping must come your way during your visit. The Hotel Cecil awaits your trial.

BEAUTY SALOON.

JULIETTE.

Two minutes' walk from the Star Theatre will bring you to the American Beauty Parlour situated in Wing Lock Building, adjoining Nathan Road. Expert service is the first consideration of Juliette, and a more popular beauty parlour would be difficult to name.

TOBACCONISTS.

TABAQUERIA FILIPINA.

In this excellently fitted emporium, you are assured fair prices, fresh stock, fine quality and faithful service, which has been their jealously guarded motto ever since they opened in Hong Kong.

The stocks of smokers' requisites carried in this store are large and varied. They have all the best known brands of American tobaccos and cigarettes in stock, and they are also famous for the lines of Manila cigars which they carry.

CLOISONNE.

How the Finished Article Is Made.

To put it in a nut-shell Cloisonne is a kind of fine pottery with enamelled surfaces decorated with elaborate designs, the outlines of which are formed by small bands or fillets of metal. Many years ago the Byzantines excelled in this class of work, but at the present time China leads in Cloisonne ware.

The production of a certain piece takes time, and requires very careful attention in all the different stages to produce perfect workmanship.

In the first place a design is drawn on a thin copper shell (already modelled to the desired object—it may be a vase, box or tray), and is then outlined with silver, gold or brass wire. The shell is then dipped in enamel and subjected to a good firing which holds the wires in position, forming the design.

The first colours are then applied; this process is continued, according to the quality of the work, until such time as the wired design is filled in with the enamel.

So far so good—now the most difficult part is undertaken, that is the polishing. Under a steady flow of cold water the object is polished with a special kind of brimstone and great care is taken that no foreign matter is embedded in the polishing stone, which would cause the slightest surface scratch. If this happened the work of months and years is completely destroyed. Yet careful attention will overcome this and the finished article will remain a joy to the eye and the most wonderful piece of work one could ever imagine.

The vase reproduced above is one of a pair of vases exhibited at Messrs. Komor & Komor. They stand five feet high and are supposed to be the largest pair of cloisonne vases in the world.

The outstanding colour is a beautiful crimson. The flowers and leaves are all in their natural colours, and complete a really wonderful piece of superb art. Considering the height of the vases they are exceptionally light in weight.

FATAL STABBING.

NIGHT CLUB PLAYER SENTENCED.

"QUITE DRUNK."

An echo of the fatal stabbing on September 28 last, of William Candido Garcia, an American mechanic, was heard on March 11, in the U.S. Court for China, when Raymond M. Tobias, former orchestra leader of the Night Club Cabaret, was sentenced by Judge D. Purdy to eight years' imprisonment in Billibid Prison, Manila, after pleading guilty to a charge of manslaughter.

Outlining the case for the prosecution, Dr. Geo. Sollett, U.S. Direct Attorney, said: "Garcia was an employee of certain shows that were being presented at the New World amusement resort in Shanghai. He was a mechanic.

"On September 27, last, it appears that after work at 11.30 p.m., or well on towards midnight, Garcia and another employee of the New World, La Francke, went out to see the sights of Shanghai. After buying some liquor, they got to North Szechuen Road. On the way they drank half a bottle of the liquor. They eventually got to a place called the Tumble Inn, where they remained till 4 a.m., buying several more drinks. They were both quite drunk when they left the place on Sunday morning, September 28, 1930. They took rickshas and proceeded south along North Szechuen Road. On arriving at the intersection of North Szechuen and Range Roads, they turned east into Range Road.

Early Morning Rendezvous.

"It appears that, at the time, a group of Filipinos, which included accused, was congregated. There were 10 to 12 Filipinos in that group. It was evidently a common thing for those Filipinos to gather at that particular spot at that hour of the morning. Most of them were musicians and it was common for them to meet at that place after their work. On that morning they had planned to attend the Russian Invalids' Club to play the last game of lotto. That day, it was alleged, accused had a little trouble with the management of the Night Club and the evidence was that he had been drinking a bit but was not very drunk. The discharge of one of the musicians of the Night Club had allegedly made him somewhat angry. One of the witnesses that was called by the Government at the preliminary hearing stated that 15 minutes before the fight occurred, accused and another Filipino were already at the corner of the street. Two American sailors passed by in rickshas. Some words were exchanged, accused calling the sailors some vile names. They went on their way however, without anything happening.

A Heated Passage.

"Fifteen minutes later, Garcia and his companion came along in rickshas, with Garcia in the rear ricksha. As they were turning the corner, where accused was standing in conversation with a Filipino, some words were exchanged between accused and Garcia. From this point, the evidence is rather conflicting. One witness called by the Government testified that the first words spoken were uttered by Tobias. The words were: "Come down from the ricksha or something to that effect. Another witness, a Chinese newspaper vendor, standing at the corner just across the street, stated that the first words were spoken by someone in the crowd of Filipinos. After his ricksha had gone 30 to 40 feet away from the spot, Garcia stopped his ricksha and alighted. In the meantime, accused moved towards deceased.

"La Francke (Tex) cannot identify any of the Filipinos. No doubt he was very drunk at the time. He said that he approached them to intercede and stop the fight, but he was struck on the face by someone and then two Filipinos fought with him. Meanwhile, Garcia was fighting with accused. After a while, a witness noticed a red spot on the left breast of Garcia. He saw the spot grow larger and noticed a knife in Tobias' hand."

Had a Lot Of Liquor.

Mr. J. B. Davies, for the defence, stated that deceased and "Tex" had taken a lot of liquor that night and nearly had a fight with some foreigners in the Tumble Inn Cafe. Accused, counsel said, denied having any trouble with the management of the Night Club or that he was in a belligerent mood and was not match for deceased, who was a muscular man weighing 160 pounds. It was most unfortunate, counsel said, that accused was then carrying a knife with which he used to cut something on his saxophone.

Continuing, Mr. Davies said Tobias was a young man of 28 years, had never got into trouble before and had been earning a living in Shanghai as a musician for the past three or four years and certainly had no criminal inclination. In conclusion, counsel asked the Court to pass a lenient sentence on accused.

After asking how the knife had become open during the fight, Judge Purdy delivered sentence briefly as follows: "Tobias, I consider a just punishment for the crime of manslaughter, to which you have pleaded guilty, to confine you in Billibid Prison in Manila, Philippine Islands, for a period of eight years."—Shanghai Times.

GIRL'S BIG FLIGHT.

LONDON-CAPE TOWN VIA WEST COAST OF AFRICA.

Casablanca, Mar. 12.

The British airwoman Delphine Reynolds, who is flying to Cape Town by the west coast of Africa, accompanied by Flight-Lieutenant Pudney, arrived here to-day and, after resting for a few hours, took off again for Agadir.

Miss Reynolds, who is the daughter of Sir James Reynolds, left Hanworth aerodrome, London, on March 2 in atrocious weather with half a gale blowing. Her companion, Flight-Lieut. Pudney was an Air Ministry test pilot. They are flying in a light, open cockpit Blackburn Bluebird plane.

Miss Reynolds has no intention of making a record but intends to survey the rivers of the west coast of Africa and to examine the possibilities of a seaplane service.

From Casablanca, Miss Reynolds' route lies by way of Dacca, where the wheels of her plane will be exchanged for floats, thence south along the Ivory Coast and through Nigeria.—Reuter Wireless.

TROOPS CARRIED BY AIR.

Heliopolis, Mar. 11.

Three Royal Air Force Vickers-Napier troop carrying aeroplanes landed here at one o'clock this afternoon. Under the command of Squadron Leader H.W.G.J. Penderel the British military ships of the air flew to Heliopolis from Capetown.

Previously they had flown from Heliopolis to Capetown and thus, upon the arrival of the planes here to-day, they completed a flight of 11,240 miles. The flight was designed to prove the feasibility of transporting troops by aeroplane to all parts of the Empire. In every respect the flight was most successful.

Each of the Royal Air Force planes carried 23 soldiers. They left Heliopolis on January 12 and their return to-day was exactly on schedule.—United Press.

DECISIVE SCOTTISH VICTORY.

Allan Converts Five
For Scots.

AT MURRAYFIELD.

London, Saturday.
Maintaining the invulnerable tradition of Edinburgh, Scotland had no difficulty in the fifty-third International Rugby match between these two countries at Murrayfield to-day, the match ending with a Scottish victory by 28 points to 19. Both defences were the soundest departments in the two teams in this Calcutta Cup match, played before 75,000 people in a drizzling rain, but the Scottish tackling was the more incisive. The combination of MacPherson and Smith gave the English defence many anxious moments.

The greasy ball made handling very difficult, but at the interval Scotland led by 20 points to 13, and increased their lead in the second half. Ford, MacPherson, Logan, Mackintosh and Smith (two) got over for Scotland. Allan distinguished himself by converting five tries, whilst Tallent (two) and Reeve (two) scored tries for England, two of which Black converted. Black also kicked a penalty goal.—Reuter.

The race starts at 2.30 p.m. T. A. Brocklebank, Cambridge's genius stroke, gained the lead from the start, and set his crew the task of keeping it, and without any spectacular effects held all the Oxford attempts to overhaul them. The first mile was covered in 4 min. 5 sec. and with Oxford only a quarter of a length behind, it seemed that they might draw level; but Cambridge shook them off, and increased their lead to a length at the mile and a half post. Hammer-smith Bridge was reached in 7 min. 10 sec. with Cambridge stroking 34 and Oxford 32.

Oxford's grim struggle against their dominant rivals seemed to tire them and at the half-way Stage Cambridge were content to forge steadily ahead. They increased the lead to two and a half lengths at Duke's Meadows, and it was then obvious that Oxford were finished. Their valiant last rally did not make the slightest impression. Cambridge were still two lengths in front at Barnes Bridge, which was passed in 16 min. 4 sec., and rowed beautifully to the post, which they reached two lengths and a half in front of Oxford, amid the thunderous cheers from what was said to be the greatest boat race crowd in history.

Oxford won the toss, and choosing the Middlesex Station side were expected to win. Their time was 18 min. 34 sec.—Reuter.

Keen Finishes at St.
Stephen's College.

AIM OF ATHLETICS.

"It's an ill wind that blows
nobody any good" remarked the Hon. Mr. W. E. L. Shenton, when speaking before the students at the prize distribution following the St.
Stephen's College Annual Athletic Sports held at Stanley on Saturday. "for," he added, "if the weather was not everything to be described from the spectators' point of view, there was little doubt that it improved conditions for the competitors. In concluding, he congratulated the winners and said that the true aim of sports was not to train for the sake of the prize, but to keep oneself bodily fit."

The prizes were distributed by Mrs. Shenton, was presented with a special "prize" in the form of a silver flower vase.
There was a long programme of events, and some good times were set up. Competition was keen, and there can be no doubt that the winners of the individual championships deserved their "pota."

CRICKET.

HONOUR WELL DESERVED.

As the result of a brilliant win over the Craigengower C.C. on Saturday, the Indian Recreation Club carried off the Second Division championship of the Cricket League. Opening the season in convincing style, the I.R.C. ran away with six successive victories. In their seventh engagement they received a set-back at the hands of the Civil Service C.C., but this reverse did not affect their subsequent performances. Possessing no brilliant individualists in the side, they have always given the impression of being a well-balanced team and fully deserve their pride of place which they have gained, for the third time in their career.

The Royal Artillery unexpectedly lost to the Civil Service C.C. in League I and are now out of the running for the honour.

In the other Second Division fixture, the University sprang a surprise on the Kowloon C.C. winning by a handsome margin.

Owing to the unplayable state of the ground, the Craigengower-I.R.C. match in the First Division was postponed.

REGULATIONS TO LIMIT

CHINA'S "DUMPING TAX."

Nanking, Saturday.
The Legislative Yuan to-day passed regulations regarding the importation of salt, sauce, and other food flavouring products.
Under the regulations, foreign salt cannot be imported to China without special permission from the Chinese Government, while foreign sauces must pay the tax collected on Chinese salt in addition to the regular import duty.
The salt tax is $5 per hundred standard catties. Moreover, if imported foreign sauces are sold in China at exceptionally low prices, the Government may collect a special "dumping tax," thereon, in addition to the import duty and salt tax.—Reuter.

WORLD'S DEADLIEST POISON.

Amazing Herb Found
in the Transvaal.

LEAVES NO TRACE.

Pretoria, Mar. 14.
The deadliest poison in existence
is claimed to have been discovered by Dr. H. H. Green, the expert at the Onderstepoort Laboratory.

The poison, which is known as adenia, was discovered in a bulbous herb growing in the Transvaal.
It leaves no trace in the organs of its victims, and it is declared that one-thousandth part of a grain is sufficient to kill an adult. This is about 5,000 times deadlier than strychnine.

The discovery was made when some labourers, who were working near the Pienars River, tasted the bulbs in order to quench their thirst. All of them became violently ill and one died.

Dr. Green, who examined the organs of the dead man, obtained
some of the bulbs and ordered two natives to cut them up.

This strikingly demonstrated the deadliness of the poison for both natives were overcome by the smell and their lives were saved with the greatest difficulty.—Reuter Wireless.

SHOT HUSBAND.

MOTHER'S RACE TO SAVE HER DAUGHTER.

New York, March 14.
"Tell mother to come immediatly" was the message flashed across the Atlantic by the United States Consul at Nice at the request of Mrs. Nirdlinger, a beautiful young American, formerly the actress
Miss Charlotte Nash, who has surrendered to the police declaring that she shot her husband in self-defence.

"Mother," namely Mrs. James N.
Nash, is accordingly leaving for the Riviera as soon as possible.
She will be accompanied by her son, Mr. Wesley Nash, and they are taking with them letters from Mrs.
Nirdlinger describing periodic outbursts of rage, threats and even violence indulged in by the husband.
These letters will be produced in support of Mrs. Nirdlinger's plea of self-defence.—Reuter.

R.A. GARRISON'S ESCAPE.

Danger Of Explosion From Fire.

London, March 14.
An ammunition store packed with shells and other explosives at Shoeburyness Royal Artillery garrison was in grave danger of blowing up at dawn to-day, when fire broke out in the neighbouring stables.

A score of frightened horses
were released, and trampled
through the garrison. Ten others were burned to death.
The flames obtained such a hold that the fire brigade was unable to control them, and the stables burned themselves out. Special precaution had been taken to prevent sparks reaching the ammunition building, where large numbers of shells were kept for target practice with heavy guns.—
Reuter Wireless.

first step towards the realisation of
M. Briand's pan European federation. The customs and administrations will remain separate, but the revenue from duties will be pooled and divided. The agreement is for three years' duration, and is subject to six months' notice on either side.—Reuter.

FRENCH AIRMEN ARRIVE AT TOKYO.

19 DAYS FROM FRANCE.

Tokyo, Saturday.
The French fliers, Eurtin and Maench, arrived at Tachikawa, on the outskirts of Tokyo, shortly after three this afternoon on a non-stop flight from Seoul.— Reuter.

[The airmen took off from Le Bourget aerodrome for Athens on March 2, with the intention of flying by day and night with the object of breaking the record for a flight from Paris to Tokyo, their ultimate destination. They were severely buffeted while crossing the Gulf of Alexandretta and were forced down. Their propeller was damaged but was repaired the following day, enabling them to resume their flight to Basra.

The airmen reached Kai Tak
Aerodrome at 11.15 on March 14,
and arrived at Shanghai on March 17. They left Shanghai for Tokyo on March 19, but were detained at Seoul by the Japanese authorities until March 21, as they took the Moppo route, which was not permitted, instead of the Mukden route which had been sanctioned, in spite of warnings
from the French Embassy.]

Three of the Police were injur-

CHINESE PLANE STRIKES TREE

Shanghai, Saturday.
A Chinese Naval flying instructor and a Chinese Naval student were killed when a small
two-seater training plane crashed
six miles from Hungjao Aerodrome this morning.

It is stated that the student,
who was operating the controls,
struck the branches of a tree.
Both aviators had fractured
their skulls and were found unconscious. They were removed to hospital, but died shortly afterwards.

The plane was smashed beyond repair.—Reuter.

BROPHY'S FATE.

MANILA REPORTS LITTLE HOPE

Manila, Yesterday.
Hopes of finding Brophy dwindled

tween the coast of Luzon and

McVay, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Asiatic Fleet, that they were encountering heavy seas.
Until the early hours of this morn-
